

Field Trip to San Francisco

I went to field trip in San Francisco in October 27th. In there, I had wonderful time with my friend who I met in SSALLI because not only I enjoyed shopping but also I could talk with my friends a lot. Additionally, I saw many homeless on the roadside. I expected there are many homeless in San Francisco because I have heard San Francisco is one of the big cities which have many homeless in the United States. However, I saw more many homeless than I expected. Also, they seemed like they wanted money and some foods. When I went hamburger shop as a lunch, I could not finish everything, so I thought I want to give my left overs to a homeless. Thus, I gave it to one homeless, and then he took it quickly, but he seemed like happy. By this incident, he really impressed me with the important of food and what I can live comfortably. I thought we have to appreciate everything like food and family. Therefore, trip to San Francisco was really memorable time for me.
